DIFFERENCES OVER ALBERTA'S BUDGET REMAIN UNSETTLED

Aberhart's Closure Motion Defeated and Resolution for Interim Supply Not Reached—Insurgents Continue Demand for Programme of Social Credit—Minister Defends Actions

EDMONTON, March 29 (P).—Crisis over the "orthodox" budget of Hon. Solon Low, Provincial Treasurer, held up the passing of estimates in the Alberta Legislature today. There was no settlement of differences between the insurgent Social Crediters, battling the budget, and the supporters of Premier William Aberhart when the House adjourned at 6 p.m. until 3 p.m. tomorrow.

A motion of Premier Aberhart to bring closure of the budget debate into effect was defeated soon after the afternoon session started. There was no recorded vote.

"I have no desire whatever to shut off discussion of the budget," the Premier said. He added he had only wanted to expedite the business of the assembly.

PREVENTS WITHDRAWAL
Previously, Mr. Aberhart had asked that his motion be withdrawn, a request that would have required the unanimous consent of the House. One member voted against withdrawal.

The budget debate now may continue indefinitely or until the list of speakers is exhausted, or it may, if the House wishes, be put aside for discussion of an interim supply resolution. The resolution for interim supply was on the order paper today but was not reached during the session.

SPECIAL FLAG WILL BE FLOWN

Coat-of-Arms to Be Used For Purpose at Coronation Ceremonies

OTTAWA, March 29 (P).—The flag to be displayed at the Coronation as the Canadian Standard will be "the Arms of Canada granted by Royal Proclamation dated November 21, 1921, with the Royal Crown at the staff." Prime Minister Mackenzie King stated in a reply tabled today in the House, to a question by C. R. McIntosh (Liberal, North Battleford).

(The entire flag will be the Coat of Arms with the Royal Crown on the staff. It will be the same Coat of Arms as used on the Red Ensign.)

NO NATIONAL FLAG

"Canada has not a recognized distinctive national flag," the answer stated. "The Red Ensign with the Arms of Canada in the fly is used on vessels of the Canadian mercantile marine. The Blue Ensign is used on vessels belonging to the Dominion of Canada."

The authority was given in 1924 to fly the Red Ensign with the Arms of Canada in the fly on suitable occasions from all buildings owned or occupied by the Dominion Government and situated outside Canada. This flag is flown from the High Commissioner's Office in London and the Dominion legations abroad.

Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Irish Free State have recognized distinctive national flags. India has no distinctive flag. The flag authorized for the Viceroy is used as a distinctive flag. All colonies have distinctive badges which are applied to the Union Jack.

Young Bishop on Way to Victoria

OTTAWA, March 29 (P).—Mr. John C. Cody left here tonight to take over his new duties as Bishop of Victoria. Former parish priest of Eastview, a suburban municipality, he is one of Canada's youngest bishops.

He will travel to Victoria on a special car and will make stops at Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Edmonton. He will be installed as bishop at the Victoria cathedral April 7.

Dominion Commitments For Unemployment Relief And Public Works Lower

Return for Year Tabled in House of Commons At Ottawa

WORK PROJECTS IN B.C. KEPT DOWN

OTTAWA, March 29 (P).—The Dominion Government is committed to contribute $52,888,196 toward unemployment relief, relief works projects and trans-Canada highway construction of the provinces in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1937, compared to commitments of $55,355,641 last year, a return tabled in the House of Commons today showed.

Actual payments last year were $50,112,479, exclusive of $1,482,500 spent on mine road construction, while this year to date payments total $34,014,469, exclusive of an expected expenditure of $1,351,500 on mine roads.

YEAR'S COMMITMENTS
This year's commitments are: $28,879,73 as grants-in-aid, $21,232,010 toward public works in co-operation with the provinces and $2,776,453 toward construction of the Trans-Canada Highway. These compared with the following commitments for last year: $26,274,875.

Population Of Canada 11,000,000

OTTAWA, March 29 (P).—The estimated population of Canada in 1937 is 11,000,000, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons today from the Department of Trade and Commerce.

At the last census, in 1931, the population was 10,376,786. Natural increase of births over deaths was then estimated at 135,956 a year.

Controversy Renewed by Decisions Supporting Minimum Wages for Women, Farm Mortgage Act and Railroad Labor Measure

WASHINGTON, March 29 (P).—The Supreme Court changed its position on a fundamental issue today and, by a five-to-four decision, upheld the right of the states to prescribe minimum wages for women.

Its verdict, long awaited, injected a new element into the turbulent debate over the President's plan to increase the size of the tribunal unless the older justices retire—the potentialities of which could not be measured tonight.

SETTLEMENT OF WAGE DISPUTE ENDS THREAT OF RAIL STRIKE

King and Queen Will Make Tour Of North Wales

LONDON, March 29 (P).—A tour of North Wales by the King and Queen after the Coronation will follow their visits to Edinburgh and Belfast. Traveling by the royal yacht, they will visit Carnarvon Castle on July 15. A pageant, similar in scale to that given when the Duke of Windsor was invested as Prince of Wales, will be held.

Members of Running Trades to Receive Progressive Restoration Until All Pay Cuts Wiped Out by April Next Year—Minister's Intervention Aids in Reaching Compromise

Joint Statement Says Accord Brings Mutual Satisfaction

MONTREAL, March 29 (P).—A compromise today averted a paralyzing strike of Canadian railway labor. Going beyond their original concessions, the two major railways agreed to grant their employees full restoration by April 1, 1938, of 10 per cent wage cuts imposed during the depression. The agreement came close to meeting labor's demands.

The men, threatening strike as an alternative, had sought full return of their pre-depression wage scale by the end of this year. Up until the end of last week, the furthest the railway would go was to offer them their full pay back by the end of July, 1938.

What was done at negotiation meetings today, apparently, was to split the difference. The men gained a month in the time of complete restoration offered them before.

MUTUAL SATISFACTION

Neither side had quarrel with the final settlement. A statement issued on behalf of the men and the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways said there was "mutual satisfaction" on the part of the "parties to the dispute." Also, they stressed good feelings between them.

CURIO GOING TO HOME IN EGYPT

Bit of Bone From Tomb Is Blamed For Series of Misfortunes

EDINBURGH, Scotland, March 29 (P).—Sir Alexander Seton is sending back to Egypt a bit of bone, supposedly from a Pharaoh's skeleton, because visitors complain about a ghost-like figure wandering through the house. Maids won't stay in the house more than one night, and each complained about the spectral robed figure. Two fires broke out in the house. Glassware put in cabinets was found smashed to bits.

Sir Alexander lent the bone to a surgeon once, and that night the surgeon's maid broke her leg running away, in terror, she said, from a robed phantom. (The surgeon returned the bone the next day.)

SERIES OF ILLNESSES

Sir Alexander's family has suffered an unprecedented series of sudden illnesses. The small piece of bone, in a glass case, was brought to Scotland last year by Lady Seton, who picked it up as a curio from a tomb at Giza.

Convinced the strange happenings could "not have been coincidences," Sir Alexander said today: "That bone is going to be replaced in the tomb it was taken from as quickly as possible."

TRAPPER FEARED LOST FOUND SAFE

Search Party Finds Man Surprised Long Absence Caused Fears For Safety

JASPER, Alta., March 29 (P).—Grinning with surprise over the fact his long absence had started a search party, who feared he had fallen through river ice, Victor Hill, fifty-five-year-old one-armed trapper of Hay River district, was found safe and in good health today in his lonely cabin at the junction of Pinto Creek and Hay River, forty-two miles north of Edmonton.

He had wintered safely in his cabin, a brief illness preventing him from trekking to Edmonton in mid-January for supplies, according to his schedule. He now had recovered completely and was "making out all right," he told members of the search party.

The hunt was launched last Thursday when fears of Hill's friends here were spurred by a heavy snowfall.

Sudden Aid for Archaeologists

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, March 29 (CP-Havas).—Nature relieved archaeologists of months of work today when tons of sand and broken stone suddenly slipped at Ras el Soda and disclosed a well-preserved temple to Isis.

The building was filled with sculptural treasures in perfect condition. It is on the Alexandria-Aboukir Road.

TWO BILLS ARE PASSED

Anglo-Canadian Agreement Ratified and C.N.R. Accounting Act Passed

OTTAWA, March 29 (P).—Two of the important bills of the session, the one ratifying the new Canada-United Kingdom trade agreement and the provision for a new accounting set-up in the Canadian National Railways, received final reading in the House of Commons today and were sent along to the Senate.

Conservatives opposed the C.N.R. bill but offered no objections to the treaty which replaces the pact negotiated at the Ottawa Imperial Conference of 1932.

SEES THREE BENEFITS

Three benefits would result from the railway accounting set-up which scales down the company's capital structure, Transport Minister C. D. Howe told the House.

It would put a value on the railway property which represented the money invested by the Government. It would give directors, officials and employees a more reasonable objective and put new heart in them and it would give investors a true picture of Canada's debt situation and relationship between the Government and the railway.

RENEWED OBJECTIONS

R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, renewed objections he had raised earlier and said the balance sheet of the railway under the new set-up would not reveal its true condition. He described the creation of a securities trust to hold governmental claims now being written off as unnecessary and complained and said the claims could be held by the Minister of Finance directly.

The Canadian National accounts would not show all the money invested in the system under the new arrangement as the Canadian Pacific accounts did. This would create an undesirable situation and make comparison of the two companies' finances difficult.

Anxious to Crown King in Scotland

LONDON, March 29 (P).—An appeal to Scottish local authorities to support the suggestion that the King be crowned in Scotland as well as in England is contained in a letter circulated among town clerks by the Scottish Nationalist party.

EXPLOSIONS DUE TO BROKEN LAW

Attorney-General Charges Utter Disregard Responsible for Death Of Nine Miners

DUBOIS, Pa., March 29 (P).—Attorney-General Charles J. Margiotti charged today "utter disregard" of the law was responsible for the death of nine men in explosions at the Kramer mine.

He said there were three blasts on Saturday, asserting they were "directly due" to the men being permitted to enter the mine twenty minutes after the ventilating fans had been turned on. He said the state law stipulates that men shall not enter a mine until two hours after fans have been in operation.

Two miners and seven rescue workers died in three explosions at the mine Saturday.

DUKE OF WINDSOR CHANGES RESIDENCE

ENZESFELD, Austria, March 29 (P).—The Duke of Windsor, accompanied by a truckload of baggage and a police escort, departed today for St. Wolfgang, in the lake country of Upper Austria.

A Vienna police official said he would remain at the new retreat until May 2, then he will depart for France.

Rumbles of Revolt Heard Within Ranks Of Franco's Army

Reported Plot to Cause Uprising Behind Spanish Insurgent Lines Uncovered by Spies—Government Forces Start Lunge at Headquarters

MADRID, March 29 (CP-Havas).—The first rumblings of revolt within the ranks of General Francisco Franco's insurgent army were heard today as the Government High Command shifted its centre of operations in a daring lunge at the insurgent divisional headquarters of Avila, fifty-three miles northwest of Madrid.

Reports said German spies serving the insurgents had uncovered a plot to foment an uprising behind their lines. From Tangier it was reported thirty insurgent officers and soldiers had been executed by a firing squad at Tetuan, Spanish Morocco, for plotting against the Franco government. A report from Malaga by way of London, said twenty Italian soldiers in a regiment from Pavia had been executed during the week-end.

With the insurgents stalemated in their attempt to smash through Guadalajara Province to Madrid, the Government suddenly launched an offensive on Avila from Escorial, twenty-five miles northwest of the capital.

Insurgent positions at Navalperal de Pinares, only thirteen miles southeast of Avila, were battered by an artillery barrage. Semi-official reports from the Cordoba front, southwest of Ciudad Real, said Government forces fought their way into outlying districts of Alcaracejos during a battle which raged all day.

Capture of Alcaracejos, west of Pozoblanco, would force the insurgents to retire southward.

English System of Teaching Humanities Useless in Dominion

Governor-General Says Classical Curriculum of Oxford and Cambridge Has No Place in Canadian Education—Unfamiliar With Problems

TORONTO, March 29 (P).—"The fine old fortifying classical curriculum" of Oxford and Cambridge, to which he confessed he was sympathetic, has no place in Canadian education, Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General, told the opening meeting of the seventy-sixth annual convention of the Ontario Educational Association here tonight.

Addressing a gathering of hundreds of teachers, trustees, inspectors and administrators, the Governor-General said he had not been in Canada long enough to know of peculiar educational problems here. Before his term expired he hoped to have "something useful" to say.

NO USE IN CANADA

But he knew that the old idea of higher education, where a young man engaged in "human learning" until he was twenty-one and after that acquired the particular technique needed, for whatever profession he chose, could not apply in Canada.

"What we are concerned with in education is to enable youth of every class, including the poorest, to earn an honest living and at the same time to equip a boy for his life's work; to give him some background of education which will provide him with a wise perspective and a fund of unutilitarian interests, and incidentally fit him to be a good citizen," Lord Tweedsmuir said.

That was the problem for educational authorities which must be addressed, with "common sense and a proper perception of realities." It was no good giving a boy a smattering of culture if he was going to starve; no good equipping him to earn a living and leaving him mind narrow and inelastic.

"I have been much cheered lately in visiting various technical and commercial schools in Ontario to find that an honest endeavor was made throughout the technical training to preserve an element of what I call the humanities," he said. "That is one aid to a solution."

TECHNICAL TRAINING

"The other may be found in the way in which the technical training itself is conducted. If it is regarded not merely as the acquisition of a certain number of rules of thumb, but as a piece of serious mental training, then you are introducing the spirit of the humanities into the vocational side. You are producing not only technicians, but men and women with minds."

SETTLEMENT ENDS THREAT OF STRIKE

between employer and employee was "fully preserved." Under the agreement, the depression cuts will be erased gradually. Already the roads have wiped out 1 per cent. The new agreement commits them to give back another by April 1, 1 per cent on June 1, August 1, October 1 and December 1, 2 per cent on February 1, 1938, and another 2 per cent at the end of March, 1938.

PROGRESSIVE RESTORATION
The joint statement, issued after a conference between railway union leaders and company officials, said the men had sought earlier restoration of the cuts. However, it was stated in the announcement, they "finally agreed" to accept the progressive elimination of the decreases.

The rail union chiefs, in session here for ten days on the question of calling a general stoppage, said they had the authorization to call the strike. Ballots in their coast-to-coast strike poll, they claimed, were overwhelmingly in favor of a strike unless the railways gave back their cuts in full.

Backed by the ballot, the general conference committee of the unions—composed of about fifty union vice-presidents and other delegates—had been arguing the issue with the roads for more than a week.

By last Thursday, they were agreed the cut should be restored in full, but the companies would not agree to give it back by the end of this year. It was then that Labor Minister Norman Rogers stepped in.

Both parties were asked to go to Ottawa. After Rogers had met them both Friday, he announced they were ready to resume negotiations. After that, it was just a matter of a conference Saturday and another today.

Labor Minister Norman Rogers, to whom went much of the credit for breaking last week's deadlock between the railways and their men, issued only a brief statement voicing his satisfaction the parties had maintained the fine tradition of "adjusting their differences by collective bargaining and direct negotiation."

Other members of the Cabinet praised the reasonable attitude generally maintained throughout the tense negotiations.

REEVE CROUCH RETURNS HOME

Is Well Satisfied Following Interview With Federal Cabinet Ministers at Ottawa

REEVE WILLIAM CROUCH

Well satisfied with the result of his mission to Ottawa, when, in company with fifteen mayors, he interviewed members of the Federal Cabinet, Reeve William Crouch, of Saanich, returned to this city yesterday, after sixteen days' absence.

Delegates who waited upon the Cabinet, from the Union of Canadian Municipalities, and the mayors' convention, urged the Dominion Government to increase grants, so as to preserve the structure of urban municipalities, and advocated consignment of a scheme of work and wages to replace unemployment relief.

It was suggested that the Government could not deal with the municipalities direct, but delegates replied that the Government was dealing with all the people of Canada through the Unemployment Commission. "The statement was unanswerable," said the reeve, who declared all mayors were pleased with the reception they received.

Mr. Crouch had a long talk with Hon. Dr. S. P. Tolmie, M.P., who is endeavoring to obtain Federal aid to assist Esquimalt carry the heavy burden of providing services for Government property, upon which taxes cannot be collected. He also lunched with J. S. Taylor, India.

PIONEER RESIDENT DIES ON PRAIRIES
Samuel Shore Lived on Island for Fifty Years—Funeral to Take Place Here Tomorrow

Samuel Shore, a resident of Vancouver Island for almost fifty years, passed away last Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. S. Sheppard, Edmonton, in his eighty-sixth year.

Mr. Shore was born in Sutton-in-Ashfield, Nottinghamshire, England. He left England at the age of twenty-five years and emigrated to Wyoming, coming to Vancouver Island and settling at Wellington two years later. He worked in both Wellington and Ladysmith mines, and then moved to Cumberland, where he operated the Waverley Hotel. Six years later he came to Victoria and took over the proprietorship of the old Bismarck Hotel, located on Government Street, later going into partnership with the late Robert Grant in the Vernon Hotel.

Mr. Shore was predeceased by his wife about twenty-five years ago. He had been a member of Harmony Lodge, No. 6, Ladysmith, close to fifty years. Retired for the last twenty years, the deceased alternated his time between Edmonton and Victoria, where he resided at 2219 Blanshard Street.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. R. S. Sheppard, Edmonton; one son, Robert, Texas Island, and two grandchildren.

The funeral will be held, under the auspices of the I.O.O.F., in Thomson's Funeral Home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. P. C. Hayman conducting the service. Interment will be in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Victoria Hotels Extremely Busy During Holidays

Expectations of a heavy Easter week-end business by local hotel men were more than fulfilled during the holidays. Despite the early date of the season, several hotels were full, and in some cases guests were turned away.

Though the Empress, Dominion and Strathcona Hotels accommodated members of the San Carlo Opera Company, who left Victoria early Sunday morning, their business was far in excess of that last year. The Oakbay Beach, Glenahiel and Douglas Hotels also shared the influx of visitors.

The Metropolitan Hotel, which is not officially scheduled to open until April 1, used all available rooms to take care of the holiday crowd.

THREE BANDITS HOLD UP BANK

Employees and Patrons Are Held at Bay While Robbers Take $18,000

PORTLAND, Ore., March 29 (P).—A gang that held up the Rose City branch of the First National Bank here today took $18,000, police and Department of Justice agents estimated unofficially tonight.

Three heavily armed men entered the bank shortly after 2:30 p.m., held eight employees and five or six patrons at bay and filled three canvas sacks with currency scooped systematically from the tellers' cages.

The trio made their escape in a car driven by a confederate who remained outside during the holdup.

ARE HEAVILY ARMED

R. J. Searce, manager of the bank, and William J. Weed, assistant, said two of the gang, one armed with a revolver and either a sawed-off shotgun or a sub-machine gun, and the other with a revolver, remained near the door, covering the customers.

The third walked behind the cages, herded the eight employees into a corner, systematically cleaned the tellers' cages of currency which he stuffed into three bags, and hurriedly rejoined his companions, handing a bag of loot to each. The three then dashed for their car.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

HEAT IS THE BIG FACTOR IN TREATING RHEUMATISM

The first thought in maintaining life is the use of application of heat. Heat is created or manufactured in the body from the food we eat, just as heat is created in a stove or furnace from the coal, wood or oil that is burned.

As food may take a number of minutes to create heat, starved or lost children or adults, who have been without food for some time are not given food at first but have heat applied to their bodies in the form of hot bricks, hot-water bottles, electric pads or by other methods.

Heat stimulates the circulation in the inner and outer parts of the body, increasing or strengthening the circulation in individual parts, and throughout the entire body.

Thus, in the treatment of that very old ailment—rheumatism—heat is being more generally used than ever before. Even those able to afford the spa or water resort treatment now find that the drinking of sulphur and salt or saline waters, is not considered as important as the application of heat in the various forms now available at these resorts.

Dr. C. W. Buckley, in The Journal of State Medicine, London, says: "The effect of a course of mineral water drinking may be due to purgation or purging, cleansing the bowel or intestine, and so removing toxins or poisons; this will be the effect of strong sulphur and saline waters, and to flushing of the kidneys and the tissues generally. In most rheumatic conditions, however, the external use of water in the form of baths, douches, and other methods is generally considered to be more important than the drinking of the waters."

What are the effects of the use of these hot baths, douches, and other heat methods?

Dr. Buckley states that the effects are due to heat, mechanical and chemical action that takes place in the body tissues. The heat effects will be the same whatever the character of the water employed and will influence rheumatic conditions by improving the flow of blood, especially in the skin and outer tissues.

The point, then, is that it is the heat applied to the body by the waters of the spa (in addition, of course, to the massage and electric treatments) rather than the drinking of the waters that does most good. There is also, of course, the rest and recreation forming a part of the treatment at the spa. This is very helpful to many patients.

You may not be able to go to a spa, but heat can be applied at home and the massage and electric treatments may be obtained in your home town or city.

NO CABINETS IN SIX PROVINCES

Leaders of Congress Party in India Refuse to Form Ministries

BOMBAY, March 29 (P).—Leaders of the Congress Party today refused to form ministries in the six provinces in which they won majorities in India's legislative elections.

The Congress Party, headed by Pandit Nehru, seeks independence from Great Britain, and charges the Government of India Act does not grant full autonomy.

The party leaders' action came almost on the eve of the date India's new constitution is scheduled to become effective, April 1. The move complicated the picture, but governors of the six provinces attempted to form alternate ministries. There are eleven provinces in all.

POLICE BAN PARADES

In Calcutta, the Congress Party planned to celebrate April 1 as "Constitution Day." In demonstrations there today against the constitution, seventeen members of the party were arrested while marching in a procession after police had banned parades and meetings. They were released on bail.

All processions and demonstrations have been banned Thursday as a precautionary move.

PROVINCES AFFECTED

The provinces in which the Congress Party declined to take office were Bombay, Madras, the Central Provinces, Orissa, Bihar, and the United Provinces.

The Congress Party, in opposing the Government of India Act, originally planned to follow a procedure of boycotting office, apparently reneged, then reverted to it today. Such action, they believed, would make the new constitution ineffective.

Tacoma Police Chasing Robber Try Charge in Cave but Could Not Get Results

TACOMA, March 29 (P).—Holding three women employees at bay with a pistol, a lone bandit robbed the Tacoma office of the Postal Telegraph Company of $50 at noon today.

The man, described as about twenty-five years of age, escaped through downtown crowds before the women could give an alarm.

Police following his trail believed for a time they had the man cornered in a small cave below the ruins of the old Tacoma Hotel. Later, when a charge of tear gas failed to bring results, they abandoned a watch of the cave mouth.

POLICE CAR CHASED THIEF TOO FAST

SPOKANE, March 29 (P).—A damage claim against the city today alleged gross negligence by police because they chased an automobile thief too fast.

A woman, filing the claim for $7,280, alleged that a police prowler car sped more than seventy miles an hour; that the driver of the stolen car had to drive at equal speed, and consequently hit her car and injured her.

Her Hands Were All Out of Shape
In Grip of Rheumatism for 15 Years

Here is a letter which shows the value of persevering with Kruschen: "For about two years I hardly went out, it was such a painful effort to walk owing to rheumatism. My hands and feet were the worst affected. I was unable to walk without a cane. I read so much about Kruschen, I decided to try it. I was three months before I felt any better, but I kept on and since then I have been fine and never used the cane. My hands were all out of shape, but they are almost normal now. Of course I could not expect to get better all at once, as I had suffered for 15 years before I started on Kruschen."—Miss A.L. Rheumatism is frequently caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood. If you could see how Kruschen dissolves these uric acid deposits, then you would agree that the Kruschen treatment should bring relief in cases of rheumatism. (Adv.)

Minister Has Praise For New Curriculum And Teachers' Work

Looks to "Schoolmen" to Solve Problem of Democracy—Professor Robert England Points to Reductions in Cost of Education

VANCOUVER, March 29 (P.)—British Columbia's new school curriculum, drawn up through the unselfish work of 150 teachers, has the most outstanding programme of studies in Canada, if not in North America, Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, declared tonight in a brief address before the opening session of the twenty-first annual meeting of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation.

"If the schoolmen cannot solve the problem of democracy then the future is black," the Minister declared.

clared. "But," he continued, "they are making their contribution and I think they are working towards a solution."

BIG ATTENDANCE

Greetings were extended from civic officials to the annual meeting, which is being attended by approximately 1,500 teachers from all parts of the province.

Professor Robert England, head of the department of extension of the University of British Columbia, addressed the meeting, pointing out reductions in the cost of education in the province between 1914 and 1935.

"There has been a great reduction in cost over the period," he declared. "Expenditure has declined relatively from $81 per pupil in 1914 to $55 per pupil in 1935."

DRASTIC REDUCTION

Since 1929 there has been a drastic reduction of $2,500,000 per year in educational appropriations, the professor said.

In ordinary business such conditions would have devastating results, he declared, but instead there are signs of deterioration in the quality of education. The curriculum is modern.

Dealing with wastes in the system, he mentioned rural school boards, saying he worked under "an illiterate board" for three years. Frequent cases of inefficiency, arbitrary handling and dismissal of teachers, inequitable systems of taxation and ignorant interference with the work of teachers were described as some of the wastes under this system, the university professor thought.

The convention continues tomorrow.

BRINGS FRIENDLY WORD TO CANADA

Crown, which is worn by Imperial princesses only.

Prince and Princess Chichibu would appear to be the most democratic members of the group making up the royal party. Coming up from William Head to Vancouver they mingled with the other passengers on the liner obligingly posed for their photographs and enjoyed the scenery of the Gulf Islands from the bridge of the Heian. There were no special arrangements made aboard for the couple, and they used the public dining-room. It was the same way all across the Pacific after the first few days out of Yokohama, when because of stormy weather, the sea proved too rough for Her Highness. With fine weather they took part in entertainments and organized ship's sports, in which His Highness was one of the leading contestants, winning first place for the Pacific passage.

contests, winning first place for the Pacific passage.

SPORT ENTHUSIASTS

Both the Prince and Princess are sport enthusiasts. While neither of them would appear to be exceptionally robust, members of their entourage are authority for the statement that they are proficient in a number of sports and very active in skiing, their favorite resort for this sport being the Japan Alps; tennis, hiking and mountain climbing. They are both looking forward to the Olympiad, which will be held in Japan in 1940. Neither of them play golf, the Prince remarked he was reserving his interest for that game for days when he is less active.

Prince Chichibu expressed his pleasure over the opportunity of visiting Canada on the way to England. "The relations between Japan and Canada," he said, "have always been the same as those of Great Britain and Japan, which have been traditionally most friendly, and it is our great desire that this relationship which exists so warmly at present will continue in the future and become even more friendly as the years go by."

EXPRESS APPRECIATION

Arriving in Vancouver Their Imperial Highnesses expressed their appreciation of the generous welcome accorded them by officials and citizens of Canada as well as by the Japanese residents of the community, who were at the docks to welcome the arrival of the Heian Maru. They added they were deeply touched by the cordial reception given them and the members of their party.

The party was particularly impressed with the spectacle presented as the ship arrived off the Sandheads. There strung out in a line a mile in length were some 200 fishing boats of all sizes, decorated with bunting and signs of welcome and evergreens, bearing some 2,000 Japanese fishermen and their families. The liner passed along close by the boats, while the Prince and Princess stood on the starboard wing of the ship's bridge and waved Japanese flags, members of the suite occupying points of vantage elsewhere. Whistles were blown and "banzais" shouted, providing a bit of real color on the way into Vancouver. A similar picture was presented at Point Grey, where another flotilla of fishing boats, about sixty in number, were lined up, and the same enthusiasm shown, while an added touch was furnished by three planes of the Royal Canadian Air Force at Jericho which flashed back and forth across the course of the liner.

CURTAINING ITINERARY

Owing to the delay in reaching Canada, the party is curtailing some of its itinerary. The party is leaving Vancouver tomorrow night, going through to Ottawa for a two-day visit with the Governor-General. The Prince expressed a desire to spend some days in the Canadian Rockies, and would willingly, he said, have preferred a bit of mountain climbing to putting in the time elsewhere. Niagara Falls and Toronto were among the places intended to have visited when the party left Japan. The former spectacle will be taken in on the return trip to Yokohama in July, when the royal couple and their entourage will go home by way of United States, sailing from San Francisco.

Officials representing the Dominion and Provincial Governments, the city of Vancouver and various organizations meeting the liner here were:

Squadron Leader A. D. Bell-Ing, representing Lord Tweedsmuir; Dr. H. L. Knevelys, the Canadian Government; Colonel A. D. Wilson, D.S.O., the Lieutenant-Governor.

COULD HAVE SAVED BOY

Only Lack of Rope Prevented Rescue of Hugh George McKinnon

Had a rope been obtainable by a rescue party seeking to remove Hugh George McKinnon, thirteen-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. F. W. McKinnon, 3440 Saanich Road, from the ledge on which he was trapped on the precipitous sides of Mount Pinelux, Goldstream, Good Friday, it is probable the lad would have been alive today.

This, in effect, was the evidence submitted before a coroner's jury which convened yesterday afternoon to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the boy's death.

The jury, which brought in a verdict of accidental death, praised the courage of Provincial Police Constables Brown and Frank Pomeroy, and recommended that authorities be instructed to erect a box containing a first aid kit and ropes on the slopes of the mountain.

CALLED FOR AID

Visibly affected, Alex Cameron, 3462 "S" Street, Saanich, described the manner in which Hugh had been missed, when a party of his companions returned to an outdoor supper from an ascent of the mountain. They had looked for, and found the boy, he said, who conversed with them, calling upon them for aid, and continually declaring he could not get down from a sloping ledge covered with slippery moss and dipping towards a drop of some 200 feet.

Two members of the party had been sent for a rope, which was not available at the camp of the Associated Engineers, located nearby. Others tried to reach the boy with a length of sapling, but he had no faith in its strength, Mr. Cameron recounted.

"We had to leave the spot we were in, and go around a distance of 600 yards in an effort to reach him from above," said witness, "but before we could get to him the poor lad had died."

Reginald Manzer, Associated Engineers' Camp, Goldstream, told of endeavoring to assist Mr. Cameron to reach the boy. "Before we got there, the boy had dropped," said Mr. Manzer.

SEARCH IN DARK

"It was dark when we arrived at the scene," declared Constable Percy Brown, of the Provincial Police. He described how he had instigated another search with Constable Frank Pomeroy on the mountain, which at that point is composed of precipitous cliffs, broken into shelves, covered with rocks and shale. "While traveling along one of these ledges, I slipped, and found a bloodstained leaf adhering to my hand. We centred our search about that point, and found the body of deceased lying on a shale slide, about twelve feet from the edge of a deep drop going towards the Goldstream Falls. We were able to move the body from the slide, and carry it down the mountain."

The inquest was conducted by Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart. The jury was composed of W. O. Findlay (foreman), W. Crawford, George Fox, William Badger, Wallace Cummings and Frank Merryfield.

U.S. COURT UPHOLDS FAR-REACHING LAWS

INDIGNANT DISSENT

In his latter action, he left the court's "conservative" bloc of McReynolds, Sutherland, Van Devanter and Butler. For them, Associate Justice Sutherland read an indignant dissent, obviously aimed directly at the proponents of the President's bill.

In addition to the minimum wage decision, the court upheld, unanimously, the new Frazier-Lemke Farm Mortgage Moratorium Act re-enacted to accord with a prior decision declaring its forerunner unconstitutional—and, also, unanimously, sustained the Railroad Labor Act, intended to bulwark collective bargaining on the railroads.

STRIKES CAUSE SHUTDOWN

WINDSOR, Ont., March 29 (P.)—Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Ltd., officials announced today that Windsor plants would be completely shut down tomorrow and some 2,000 persons temporarily thrown out of work as a result of shortage of materials annually imported from United States plants now paralyzed by strikes.

DEATH OF HIKER WAS ACCIDENTAL
John White Warned Companion Before He Plunged to Death On Good Friday
A coroner's jury empaneled to inquire into circumstances surrounding the demise of John White, seventeen, 503 Esquimalt Road, in a hiking mishap at Sooke River, Good Friday, returned a verdict of accidental death at an inquest held yesterday morning.
Sergeant Richard Harvey, of the provincial police, called only two witnesses — William Bowles, the youth who was with the victim when the fatality occurred, and Constable E. Holm, one of the provincial police force, who visited the scene and assisted in bringing the body to the city.
Bowles declared that as he was climbing the cliff, White called to him to be careful as many men had been killed climbing in the vicinity. Shortly thereafter, witness said, he heard rocks falling, and turned to see his companion plunging into the river below. "He struck his head on the rocks," asserted Bowles.
Later, Stanley Cawley dived into the fast-moving stream in an endeavor to recover White, but was unsuccessful.
Constable Holm related that when he reached the spot, about 1 o'clock, the body had been taken from the water. Deceased had fallen between sixty and seventy feet and had sustained severe head injuries. The river at that point was deep and swift, he said.

DIFFERENCES OVER BUDGET UNSETTLED

Continued from Page 1 It was indicated tonight the budget may be withdrawn tomorrow to make way for discussion of the provisional estimates required to maintain Government services after the end of the fiscal year, midnight, March 31.

BOTH SIDES HEARD Both Government and Insurgent members spoke during the debate today. They included Hon. W. W. Cross, Minister of Health, and Mrs. Edith Rogers, an organizer of the Social Credit party in Northern Alberta.

Denial the Government had "done nothing" to implement a programme of Social Credit was made by Dr. Cross in his defence of the administration. He blamed the insurgents for non-acceptance of Social Credit plans proposed by the Government. "Mrs. Rogers, after a lengthy speech, announced: 'I cannot do otherwise, Mr. Speaker, than to vote against this 'banker's budget.'"

EX-GERMAN COLONIES

There is a certainty that Germany's desire for colonies will become a matter of international discussion before long. It was the League of Nations that parcelled out the mandates arising out of the Great War, and presumably it will be that body that will decree whatever is to be done in the future in respect to colonies. The fact is that Germany is not a member of the League of Nations and, therefore, will be unwilling to submit her case to that body. The League would doubtless consider the whole issue from the standpoint of the interests of the natives, and from the standpoint, therefore, of changing administration from a democratic to a Nazi regime.

Sir Charles Hobhouse writes in The Contemporary Review: "English advocates of retention or rendition have all the arguments before them. It shortens discussion if we acknowledge that Dominion Mandates will neither be given up to the League, nor to the Empire, and certainly not to Germany. Japan has already flatly refused to give up any of her Mandates. The only territory which even seems to come within the scope of real discussion is Tanganyika. But the map of Tanganyika shows the strategic value of an air force stationed in that central region in Africa. Any country intent on territorial expansion would, of course, give the most stringent pledges of inaction, abstention, etc. How long would these be observed, how long could they be observed? The first internal disturbance would demand, perhaps justify, an air force of the first quality and size. Equally justified would be the new suspicion and alarm. On the other hand, Germany, if and as a Member State, is entitled to attend any League Conference on freedom of access to raw materials, freedom of purchase on terms of equality and currency validity. If necessity and not arrogance is the urge, membership of the League will effect her purpose."

There is another warning about the consequences that would attend a redistribution of Colonies given by Dr. Alfred Plummer, the Vice-Principal of Ruskin College, Oxford. He says: "There is not the slightest doubt that the redistribution of colonial territories, while the dictators are in their present mood and proceeding with their present programmes, would be the worst possible policy, and certainly quite fatal to world peace for years to come. . . . They would inevitably look round for new worlds to conquer, ruthlessly reasoning that if by mere threats of war so much can be gained, still more profit might be snatched from war itself. . . . It is clear that if the dictators refuse to abandon their present roles as Principal Enemies of the Peace of Europe, there is nothing to be said in favor of sharing out colonial territories and a great deal to be said against it. Native races should not be handed over to the tender mercies of Fascist and Nazi governors who have treated their own countrymen with a cunning and brutal barbarity unparalleled in modern history."

THE LEVELLER

The term "equalitarian," as denoting one who believes in the principle of equality among men, is classed among "rare" words by the lexicographers, who might have added that the rarity of the word is perhaps due to the rarity of the persons to whom it is applied. The "levelers" of Cromwell's day desired to pull down those who were above them, but they showed no great eagerness to relinquish their superiority over those below them. Pure equalitarianism, as a social and political theory, is at variance with the instinctive tendencies of mankind and obnoxious to common sense. The desire for superiority, or the principle of emulation, exists in varying degrees in every human breast. In a degenerate form it appears as envy, which is not the honest and laudable determination to excel, but a crooked desire to place obstacles in the way of a competitor.

What is meant by equality among men? The manufacturers of machinery aim at a practical equality in the replaceable parts thereof, and achieve such an equality as will serve all practical purposes, even though it actually falls short of ideal perfection by the ten thousandth part of an inch. Such approximations to equality have no parallel in the vegetable or the animal world. In her overflowing fertility Nature exhibits a marvellous capacity for variety and almost none at all for sameness. With the best will in the world, society, though it has done much for the underdog and the underprivileged, cannot perform miracles. It cannot confer upon the individual what Nature has denied. Society can do little more than aim at an approximate equality of social opportunity for all by a system of free public education, and an approximate equality of political opportunity by means of a wide voting franchise.

In mental and moral constitution, as well as in physical power, men are very variously endowed. It is not surprising, then, that there should be a difference in status, a gradation and subordination of classes in human society. Nature, with her passion for variety, has ordered it so by implanting in human beings the desire for power and superiority in very unequal proportions. All are endowed with these desires in some measure, and this ensures a perpetual struggle among individuals. Under these circumstances equality among men is an impossibility. Not all the eloquence of all the spellbinders dilating upon equality in power and status can confer upon the cheering crowd something of which Nature disapproves.

Moreover, in spite of all the loose talk about the blessings of equality, no one really wants equality, least of all the spellbinder himself. What people want and strive for and almost never refuse is power, and the possession of power or the exercise of it places its possessor in a position, not of equality with the rest of his fellows, but of superiority over them in some respect.

The nearest approach to social and political equality is to be found in a slave economy. The greater the degree of tyranny exercised by the master, the more completely the slaves are deprived of their liberty to do this or that, the more nearly equal they become. Hence the incompatibility between liberty and equality. An increase of one means a decrease of the other. Even liberty itself is not quite equally distributed among all classes of society. Usage, convention and custom exercise varying degrees of restraint at different social levels.

CHURCH UNITY

Previous to his return to his post in India, Dr. E. Stanley Jones, leader of the joint National Preaching Mission of last Autumn, in an address urging the need of closer co-operative action, presented a plan for church unity among American Protestant Churches. The proposed plan is federal in its nature and under it all the communions would unite with the title of "The Church of Christ in America." This central unity would have the various denominations as branches, "the Episcopal Branch," "the Baptist Branch," "the Friends Branch," each of which would exercise self-government after the manner of States' rights in the United States. The Episcopalians, according to his scheme, would retain their bishops, the Baptists would continue to practise adult baptism, but neither these nor any other divisive dogmas should be pressed upon other Christian groups as the price of unity.

Dr. Jones was of the opinion that some such plan—which is similar to that suggested recently by Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.—would find large acceptance, and that nine-tenths of the denominations "probably straight off would make no conditions whatever for transfer of membership or ministry," and he predicted that the remaining tenth "would put themselves into a stream of influences that in the end would make for a dropping of all barriers." Whether the noted evangelist's optimism is justified or not, there are many who believe in the need for concerted action by the Christian forces. It is noteworthy that the greatest degree of church unity is found in non-Christian lands, as in India and China. There the task confronting the comparatively few Christians is magnified by their divisiveness. The non-Christian is confused by sectarianism. "You offer us one Bible," he says, "but many different creeds and modes of worship." The mounting forces of materialism should show the churches that they must drop their age-old estrangement and rely upon the Christian virtues common to all. It must be remembered, too, that any complete plan of church unity should embrace the Roman Catholic and the Orthodox Churches, which together constitute by far the major part of Christendom.

COMMUNIST ACTIVITIES

Organizations and individuals of the Communist faith are seeking to obstruct rearmament in Great Britain, are striving to hinder recruiting and are carrying on subversive activities in the Services. This is being done under the direction of the executive council of the Communist International. Moreover, it has been found that Communists have taken steps to penetrate and utilize for their own ends the central, national and international organizations to which large numbers of "peace movements" are federated. In the latter respect success is attending their efforts. These facts have been ascertained by the Central Council of the Economic League, and they have been suspected for a long time. Although the Soviet Government is pledged not to carry on its propaganda in the British Empire, it is a pledge that has always been ignored.

The Communists are those beyond all others who believe that what they do themselves is all right but that it may not be done by their political opponents. Russia is armed to the teeth with defensive and offensive forces greater than in all that country's history. Communists would deny the privilege of having such forces to other nations who are not favorable to their political creed and they seek to achieve this end by propaganda. Such denial is awakening people everywhere to the danger of the Communist menace, especially since it is adding sabotage to propaganda.

Think not that thy word and thine alone must be right.—Sophocles.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

It has taken a long time to get the full answer to the vision of "work and wages," but we have got it now in words of one syllable, and from the Honorable Minister of Labor for the Province. To present the picture in its chronological order, recall first that "work and wages" were to be brought about by a system of "socialized finance."

Somehow or other that second phrase, socialized finance, did not perform any miracles. Then it was to be "work and wages" through the kind intervention of the Dominion. Let the Dominion give us the money, and the Province would provide "work and wages." Well, the Dominion did give us a lot of money. Some $53,000,000 has been spent all told within British Columbia since 1929, in an effort to create employment; but it has remained as a form of relief. At the second session of the present Administration, the Honorable the Minister of Labor said flatly that it would cost the Province $18,000,000 a year, to employ those on relief who were capable of effective work; and $90,000,000 a year, each year, to employ all persons then on the relief lists. That was the first official blow given to "work and wages."

What might be called the coup de grace was administered in Vancouver last week, when the Honorable the Minister of Labor said candidly that if work had to be given, business must do it. Otherwise, said he, the Province would have to impose a tax for relief, which cost $11,200,000 all told in the province last year, with the Province itself paying $7,000,000.

The real facts of the case are that whatever permanent employment has been created in the province since 1932 has been created chiefly by private enterprise. Thousands of men have gone back to work in the mining camps, the woods, the mills, the fishing fleets and on the farm, of their own initiative, and because increased exports of our goods found a market that did not exist before. If the Government had any effective hand at all in this process, it was a hand outstretched to extract taxes, licenses, fees and levies from all and every form of business. It took $3,000,000 from forest product operations in a single year. It took between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000 in income taxes from every form of business. It took millions more from the users of motor vehicles, also a commercial matter. The tax collector was right there at the door of the mine; at the sideway of the forest; at the dock of the cannery; and ensconced in the swivel-chair of the market-control office. One way and another, the Province increased its "take" from its ratepayers in B.C. from $20,000,000 to $28,500,000 a year. That, moreover, is not the whole story by several millions, but we are dealing with reported facts. It was the Honorable the Minister of Labor likewise who, anticipating the Department of Labor report for the year, gave official acknowledgment to the payroll increases made by private industry since 1932. Forest payrolls, thus have grown from $10,280,524 to $22,580,399; building material payrolls from $624,512 to $1,818,332; metal mining payrolls from $4,736,737 to $8,736,737; wood manufacturing payrolls from $902,070 to $2,057,615; smelting payrolls from $3,280,520 to $4,702,804; pulp and paper payrolls from $3,217,532 to $4,742,858. It is an imposing, graphic list; but who pays the payrolls? Is it public business or private business?

Make every fair allowance for the influence of labor laws and the good intent behind them, and say it is "minimum wages" or foreign markets that made these openings, and created these jobs? In short, compared with the taxation it extracted, what contribution did Government make in return to actual and real employment in British Columbia? Everybody knows the answer.

A mouse can be a menace at a public meeting; a menace to the lecturer, but a joy to the wayward. A noted Canadian health lecturer was speaking at the head of the lakes not long ago, when unwittingly he shared the speaker's dais with a mouse. The speaker stood on a small raised platform, a few inches above the level of the stage. Down on the stage, the mouse gambolled backwards and forwards under the platform; emerging every now and then to thrust an inquisitive nose out at the audience. The lecturer started right well. His first and second jokes went over with increasing enthusiasm. Then he came to a sad bit, where the audience should have been moved to wistful sympathy with unfortunates who lost their health. The audience, however, was watching the mouse, which appeared to be twirling its moustache. The auditorium rocked with laughter. The lecturer grew more serious still. The audience squirmed, with spasmodic peals of laughter ringing through every part of the hall. The lecturer gave up. I bet the mouse laughed!

How It Happened

The Drama Festival which was held in Vancouver last week produced some real drama for one of the Victoria teams which visited the Mainland to compete. One of the players in the local cast became so "fatigued" following the afternoon rehearsal that he went back to his hotel and fell asleep, blissfully unaware of the drama which was being staged. The remainder of the cast, almost in a frenzy, was forced to take the stage without him. However, when time came for the young man's entrance and he failed to show up, the curtain was very dramatically rung down on the Victoria thespians. It is rather pathetic when one person gives so little consideration to his fellows.

—W.F.

Why?

A veteran newspaperman, who is a member of the staff of this daily, maintains that journalists would make better-than-average writers of fiction, if they sought the motive behind the news they cover, as well as the descriptive matter, which always surrounds action. He suggests that the reporter has a tendency to dilate upon the What, Where, When and Who in the news, rather than the Why. In that connection a newcomer to this city has asked three questions: Why is there are so few lanes in Victoria? Why is it no one can tell me what the stone figures on the Parliament Buildings represent? Why is it there are so many fine residences to rent or fallen into disrepair? It is suggested there is a story behind each of these queries. The answer to these riddles would make interesting reading.—B.G.

What's in a Name?

An observant member of the social department who tootles about the city in a diminutive roadster told us a street intersecting Oak Bay Avenue bears the signs Jubilee Avenue and Jubilee Street. Wonder which is correct, Mr. City Engineer? While Horace Aubrey's alley he noticed a young woman trying on coats in the women's shop opposite. Horace made several rude remarks about the style and color of the coats. After the twenty-fifth coat had been tried on, Horace realized the customer was his wife. He received quite a shock when he arrived home and found his wife had taken three of the coats on approval. Used stamps which usually find their way into the waste basket are really worth saving. In 1935, Queen's Hospital for Children realized nearly $3,395 from the sale of stamps sent in by kind friends. The address of the hospital is Hackney Road, London E. 2. Many Victorians send stamps to the institution.

We were sorry to see that Saanich failed to support the City Council's move to build a crematorium at Royal Oak Burial Park. We see no reason why the City, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt could not get behind the movement. Mary, the Brighton Avenue cat, has a comical little son, known as George. We were assured by his master and mistress that the cat was named after him. Mary is quite indifferent to her two newest arrivals, now nearly one month old. It appears that dutiful George takes the matter in hand and daily washes the tiny kittens while their mother lies in wait for dogs which are her pet aversion.—G.B.

His Old Self

Boston's Pat Maloney, former copper and leather tanner, was his old self Saturday evening at the Tiltium gymnasium, and as usual, lost on a foul. Maloney uses few wrestling holds; plenty of fists and quite an assortment of rough tactics. Frankly Mr. Maloney is one of the "villains" of the mat game.

Chief Thunderbird, Saanich Indian, has added an Indian headgear to his regalia. Saturday evening he climbed over the ropes at the Tiltium gymnasium wrapped in a blanket of many colors and wearing his colorful feather headgear. If there is anywhere where color is useful it's in the bone-bending game of wrestling.

Early McCready, former Canadian school teacher from Regina, is a clever wrestler, and while he lacks the showmanship of some of the leaders, he has a variety of holds and really takes his grappling seriously. At the present time he is being groomed for championship mix with Dean Detton. Rudy La-Ditzi, New York Italian, never had a chance with McCready Saturday evening at the Tiltium gymnasium. The New Yorker was quite talkative and used his fists frequently. He floored Referee Johnny Pears twice, the last time cost him the bout.—S.T.

Some Cage Gossip

Hundreds of Victorians were mighty surprised to see the Dominions fall by the wayside in the third game of the B.C. basketball series before the thundering Thunderbirds from the University of British Columbia. . . . Local fans figured that the Dominions were a cinch to take that ball game and thus prolong the series but they wended their way out of the High gym disappointed at the outcome. . . . Art Chapman continued in his "slump" and when the tall centre star is off his game it's mighty hard for that front line to click. . . . Victoria had its share of the play in the first half and also in the second until the last eight minutes, when they folded up properly. . . . I have witnessed and covered practically every play-off game since the Blue Ribbons won their first Canadian crown, back in 1933, from Windsor Walkerville-Alumni but that tussle Friday night was one of the roughest I have ever seen. . . . The two referees were very lenient with both teams. If they had called half the fouls committed there would have been at least five players on the bench long before the final buzzer. . . . Varsity blocked near perfect, screened well, used the zone defence to perfection and shot with great accuracy from the floor and the strip. That's why they finished nineteen points in front. . . . Players on both sides took terrible beatings. Henderson, Rowe, Bardsley, Mattison and two Chapmans were bumped around plenty. . . . Better luck next season, boys. Varsity are the next Canadian champs in my estimation, if that means anything.—J.D.

HUDSON'S BAY WAREHOUSE
Sir,—The public-spirited effort to preserve the old Hudson's Bay warehouse, at the foot of Bastion Street, has failed. It is one of the few remaining historic buildings on Vancouver Island, having been built in 1859 by the Hudson's Bay Company outside the enclosure of Fort Victoria. The brick walls are thick and the heavy timbering is substantial, so it was thought that it would serve well as a museum, to house valuable relics, like the Tiltium, for example.

Several local organizations, including the Native Sons, the Revelers, the Real Estate Board and the British Columbia Historical Association, combined to further the project, which had been vigorously supported in letters to the press by Mr. Colin Cummins and others. Early in February the demolition of the building was already in the hands of a contractor, Mr. G. F. Durrant. Thereupon Mr. E. F. Burton, president of the Victoria Real Estate Board, telegraphed to Dr. S. F. Tolmie, at Ottawa, asking his intervention and suggesting that the Federal Government acquire the building. Then an appeal was made by Mr. Burton to Mr. C. E. Joslyn, manager of the land department of the Hudson's Bay Company at Winnipeg. Later Mr. G. W. Allan, K.C., chairman of the Canadian committee of the Hudson's Bay Company, telegraphed from Winnipeg that the company would donate the site for this public purpose if the contractor, Mr. Durrant, could be compensated. On February 12, Mr. Durrant agreed to accept $1,850 in satisfaction of his claim. Meanwhile, he desisted from dismantling the building.

The matter was then referred to the Provincial Government, and Mr. John Hart stated that his Government was prepared to pay the contractor and preserve the building for its intended use if the riparian rights were surrendered to the Government with the building and the ground on which the building stands was involved, and that the land between the warehouse and the water was not included. The Provincial Government declined to purchase the building unless the riparian rights went with it. That ended the negotiations.

It is probable that the repairs and restoration of the building for museum purposes would cost at least $2,000, and to that would have to be added the maintenance. Unless the Provincial Government assumed the financial burden, it is unlikely that the proposal, to turn the building into a museum, could be carried out properly. It is obvious that everybody concerned in this matter behaved well. The Hudson's Bay Company was friendly, the contractor was fair, the Provincial Government did all that could be expected. The thanks of our citizens for making this laudable effort to save the building, now to disappear, are due to Messrs. John Goldie, B. A. McKelvie and Hubert Lethaby.

TWELVE THOUSAND MILES AWAY
Sir,—Possibly you will be surprised to receive a letter from such a far away spot as Khartoum, Sudan. I hope that you'll be agreeably surprised, of course, but my reason for writing is explained by the appearance of the enclosed clipping in the pages of your Sunday issue of January 1, 1937.

May I say at this point, that I consider a delivery of only 5,000 miles distant from Victoria a small one for such a grand newspaper as The Colonist is, to boast about! Here am I, a former resident of Victoria some 12,000 miles away at the cross files, and I get the Sunday issue of The Colonist without fail, each week, from my parents, who are at present residents of Victoria! CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

UNBLOCK DE LUXE

Beginners at contract regard high cards as jewels from which they must not be parted, come what may. This frenzied possessiveness has at least the merit of being natural. The succeeding stage, in which players regard themselves as "pretty cute," is much more difficult to understand. Here prodigality is the motif. Having watched an expert (who knew what he was doing) unblock by the unnecessary discard of an honor, these stage No. 2 players bend every effort to rid their hands of high cards. Needless to say, this is not a productive policy. Consider today's hand.

CHAPTER XI

"Perhaps you aren't familiar with all the circumstances," Stephen said. "David had been drinking, and it's on his breath and under his belt. Then he says the man threw himself in front of the car, and his word is good with me, but it will not be worth anything in court without witnesses to back it up. David has no witnesses." He paused, said in a quickened voice, "MacAllister, if they pin this thing on David, the boy's going to prison. You must see that."

Sandra gave an unpleasant little laugh. "Prison or no prison, he thinks David should give himself up—that's the honest thing to do."

David looked at his sister. "No sense in getting hot, San. Ronny doesn't get a cut no matter how he votes. I asked him to come out here and he came. I asked him what he thought I ought to do, and he's tried to tell us."

"It seems to me you are refusing to see—," Ronny broke off, suddenly, not liking the aggressive tone of his own voice. He had let Sandra Brooke put him on the defensive. Now, he said, in a more amenable tone, "Let's try to see the whole picture. David doesn't know he killed this man. The car hit him and he thinks the impact was enough to kill him, but he doesn't know that it did. Another car came along and picked the man up, and presumably, took him to a hospital. Now suppose David gives himself up, and the man lives and admits he tried to bump himself off—what happens? David is 18—too young to mess around booze, but the courts know it's being done. He has never been arrested before, and he can produce plenty of character witnesses. He takes care of this man's hospital and doctor bills, and gives him something besides. With a good lawyer to present that case, the chances are at least fifty-fifty that David would get off with—well, something less than a prison sentence, anyway."

There was a silence. Sandra looked at Stephen, confused, for the first time questioning the wisdom of what they had been about to do. Stephen said: "All based on the admirable suppositions that the man is not dead, that he is not permanently injured, that he would be fool enough to confess he had tried to commit suicide when, by withholding such a confession, he could collect substantial damages."

"All right," said Ronny, "but where will David be if he doesn't go to the police and the police come to him? Probably someone in the car that picked the man up was quick-witted enough to take David's licence number."

"That's the one chance we take," Stephen replied. "What you propose would be too risky."

Sandra turned and started to leave her car, but came back and offered Ronny her hand.

"Thanks," she felt her hand close over hers, not lightly, but as if he were trying to awaken something in her. Then she pulled her hand away, and for the third time took David's arm—and for the third time failed in her purpose.

David was watching Ronny's face. "What do you think, Ronny?"

"I've said," Ronny replied, "about all there is to say. You'll have to decide for yourself."

"You still think I ought to go to the police?"

"I'm afraid I'll always think that, David. But I'm one against two."

"You're right, though," he drew himself up, squared his shoulders. "I can take it. Will you go with me, Ronny?"

Sandra protested, earnestly, angrily, but she saw it was no use, and in the moment that David left the group to go to Ronny's car, she stood very close to Ronny and said in a hard, harsh voice that was strangely unlike her own, "I hate you, Ronny MacAllister. I'll hate you as long as I live!"

And Stephen said, gravely, "You're taking a lot of responsibility on yourself, MacAllister."

Ronny nodded, said quietly, "Will you get hold of David's father and ask him to come to police headquarters right away?" When neither Stephen nor Sandra made any sort of response, he turned, went to his car and crawled under the wheel.

The maid who let Sandra and Stephen in said that neither her father nor her mother had come in, but Mr. Brooke had telephoned and wanted Sandra to call him at his office. Then the maid said, "There's a gentleman to see Mr. David, miss," and looked toward the living-room door.

The man was stoutish, with a greying moustache. He wore a dark suit, and one hand clutched a black derby. As Sandra and Stephen entered the room, he rose and nodded, stiffly.

Sandra said, "Mr. Sandra Brooke, David's sister. Could I—"

"Where's your brother now, Miss Brooke?"

Sandra looked at Stephen, saw the confusion in his face. The man pulled his coat back, exposing a bright shield.

"I'm from police headquarters," he told her. "Your brother was involved in an accident. We want to question him."

MANY ATTEND EASTER RITES

Assembly of 2,500 Hears Easter Sunrise Sermon By Dr. Clem Davies

The immortality of the soul was the theme of the inspiring Easter morning message given by Rev. Dr. Clem Davies to the congregation of 2,500 which attended his fourteenth annual Easter sunrise service at the summit of Mount Tolmie on Sunday.

Half an hour before the service began at 7:30, people were already beginning to congregate on the east side of the mountain, some arriving on foot, others by motor car or bicycle. The perfect weather, with the early morning sun warming the moss and broom-covered slopes of the hill, made ideal conditions for the worshippers, who faced the eastern sky while they sang the opening hymn.

Dr. Davies chose his text from the Book of Job: "If a man die shall he live again."

"We stand at the door of death in the midnight of our sorrow," Dr. Davies said. "This is the world of the dead. Two million persons died on this continent last year. 50,000 pass over for every hour of the day and night. Death ruthlessly reaps the harvest. Next to life the most universal thing is death—dead cities, dead nations—dead empires—dead civilizations."

"By logical supremacy of certain universal laws we reason out to our own satisfaction the final and everlasting survival of the soul. No man can logically reason himself away from the thoughts of immortality."

LAW OF HOPE

"We reason this by the law of hope. Hope is the strongest and most persistent quality in the human thought. Hope is the anchor of every sane mind. Without hope the affairs of the world would come to a standstill in one hour. Hope is the prophecy of immortality. If life without hope is an impossibility, a universe without a future—a spiritual future for a spiritual faculty—would be an absurdity."

"Time is eternity dealt out in the germ. The present never pays its running expenses. It is the future which gives value to all things. Every true empire-builder plants his feet on foundations which are invisible."

"We reason by the law of natural instinct. There are three things which I cannot believe. I cannot believe God would create this world and then turn his back on it. I cannot believe God would create life, and then desert him. I cannot believe God would plant a desire for immortality in the heart and fail to make adequate provision for its realization."

"We reason by the law of life's extreme brevity. A man's life is an age, but his thoughts are ageless. The tragedy of the life is the flight of the years."

"We reason by the law of eternal justice. Think of the inequalities of life. Ours is a world riddled through and through with wrong. Tyranny dwells in mansions while heroes languish in dungeons. Good men are starving while bad men are feasting. The innocent are cursed before they are born. Justice in a universe of law demands a future settlement of earthly account."

"We reason by the law of nature's destructibility. The material universe has existed for thousands of years—aye, for millions of years, for aught I know. Not a drop of water, not a speck of dust, not a ray of light, not an atom of air has ever been lost or misplaced. A bit of radium will last for 80,000 years, but that spark of spiritual fire at the exact centre of your brain—the radium of the soul—will outlast granite mountains, burning sun and shining star."

SPARK FROM MACHINE CAUSE OF EXPLOSION

WASHINGTON, March 29.—United States Secretary Wallace told Governor James V. Alfred of Texas, today, that ignition of combustible gases by a sanding machine caused the explosion at the New London, Texas, school, which killed 456 persons.

ONTARIO'S BUDGET

Sir,—As there is every indication of a provincial election in the near future, it might be well to contrast what a real people's administration can do with ours, that is so glibly praised and boosted by the present occupants of the Parliament Buildings.

The recent Ontario budget announcement is so startlingly different from what we are accustomed to hear as to be almost unbelievable. A surplus of $7,350,000 to be given back to the people; $3,000,000 of it to municipalities as a subsidy of one mill on the assessment; entire cancellation of the amusement tax; interest on moneys borrowed for drainage purposes by farmers reduced from 5 per cent to 4 per cent; additional 10 per cent given towards the cost of township roads; licenses for commercial vehicles reduced 25 per cent; motor car licences to be reduced when due; $14,500,000 for highways; $2,650,000 for mental hospitals; $1,800,000 to assist in the building of 1,500 miles of rural telephone lines, and the debt is going down.

It is almost unfair to compare the affair of this province, which you are going to be told by those responsible are in a flourishing condition, with a budget like that, but these are the highlights: British Columbia's debt, greatly increased; work and wages cut; in fact, it is none; unemployment situation, no better. What has happened is this: Extra grant to U.B.C., $350,000, none for hospitals; $4,000,000 for Fraser River bridge, which should have been used throughout the province for roads; $60,000 for health insurance—a fizzle; marketing board, a licensed restraint of trade; and the recent loan of $3,000,000 for roads, a belated gesture for election purposes. They claim credit for the increased tourist business, to which they are not entitled; in fact, it is a pitiful and sorry attempt to transact the business of a very rich province. Oh, well! as before observed, an election is in the offing, which will leave it up to the people to correct what is wrong.

—BY THORNTON W. BURGESS—

Patience often wins the day. When overhaste has lost the way.

If there is one virtue which Longlegs the Heron possesses above another it is patience. Yes, sir, Longlegs certainly has got patience. He believes that if a thing is worth having it is worth waiting for, and that if he waits long enough he is sure to get it. Perhaps that is because he has been a fisherman all his life, and his father and his grandfather were fishermen. You know a fisherman without patience rarely catches anything. Of course, Billy Mink and Little Joe Otter laugh at this and say that it isn't so, but the truth is they sometimes go hungry when they wouldn't if they had a little of the patience of Longlegs.

Now, Grandfather Frog is another who is very, very patient. He can sit still the longest time waiting for something to come to him. Indeed, he can sit perfectly still so long, and Longlegs can stand perfectly still so long, that Jerry Muskrat and Billy Mink and Little Joe Otter have had many long disputes as to which of the two can keep still the longest.

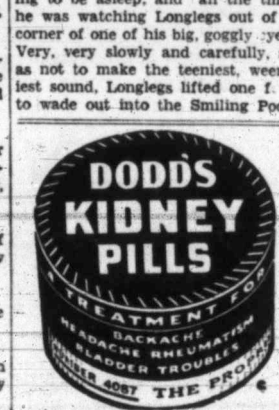

Longlegs had come to the Smiling Pool because Little Joe Otter and Billy Mink had told him that Grandfather Frog was sitting on his big green lily-pod fast asleep.

"He will make a splendid breakfast," thought Longlegs as very, very carefully he walked along the edge of the Smiling Pool so as to get right opposite Grandfather Frog. There he stopped and looked very hard at Grandfather Frog. Yes, he certainly must be asleep, for his eyes were closed. Longlegs chuckled to himself right down inside without making a sound and got ready to wade so as to get within reach.

Now, all the time Grandfather Frog was doing some quiet chuckling himself. You see, he wasn't asleep at all, for Jerry Muskrat had warned him. He was just pretending to be asleep, and all the time he was watching Longlegs out of a corner of one of his big, goggle-eyes. Very, very slowly and carefully, so as not to make the least sound, Longlegs lifted one foot to wade out into the Smiling Pool.

Over in the burlesques on the other side of the Smiling Pool two little scamps in brown bathing suits had waited and watched for the great frog that they had planned for Grandfather Frog when they had sent Longlegs to try to catch him. They were Billy Mink and Little Joe Otter. At first they laughed to themselves and nudged each other at the thought of the trick they had played. Then, as nothing happened, they began to grow tired and uneasy. You see, they do not possess patience. Finally they gave up in disgust and stole away to find some more exciting sport. Grandfather Frog saw them go and chuckled harder than ever to himself.

My digestion was poor and I was constipated. A neighbor recommended Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I got a bottle and took it as directed. In a short time the stomach upsets and constipation were corrected and I had no more dizziness or faint spells. My appetite improved and I gained in weight and in every other way. New diet, table, 30c."

Troublesome Night Coughs Hard on the System

It is the cough that sticks; the cough that is hard to get rid of; the cough, accompanied by a tickling in the throat, that causes the nerve and throat wracking trouble that keeps you awake at night.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup relieves this coughing condition by soothing the irritated parts, loosening the phlegm, and strengthening the bronchial organs. When this is done there is no more lying awake at night with the system wracking, irritating cough.

Easter Bunnies Dance At Jolly Costume Ball

Prizes Given for Attractive Fancy Dresses at Annual Affair Held at Empress Hotel in Aid of V.O.N.

Peter Rabbit, with his sisters, Flopsy, Mopsy and Cottontail, danced their way into the Empress Hotel ballroom last evening and were greeted with shrieks of delight by the several hundred children who attended the annual Bunny Ball, given in aid of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

Peter Rabbit was impersonated by June Day, and the other bunnies were Jane Cassidy, Beverly Luff, Corinne Moore and Judy Read. Then came the Three Little Pigs, whose antics delighted the young onlookers. The little pigs were Catherine Angus, Florence Hobday and Toletta Williams. Florence Hobday as Minnie Mouse and Catherine Angus as Mickey Mouse were as popular as ever, many of the tiny tots following them around, fascinated by the costumes.

THE PATRONS

The ball was under the patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber, Hon. John Hart and Mrs. Hart, Hon. F. MacPherson and Mrs. MacPherson, Dr. and Mrs. John A. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Yarrow. In charge of the arrangements for the ball were the Misses Elsa and Lillian Michaels, Mrs. Alex Strath, Mrs. A. W. Miller and Mrs. Styles Sehl, and Miss Creaser and other members of the V.O.N. gave valuable assistance in many ways.

THE PRIZES

The orchestra interspersed the dance numbers with such popular tunes as "London Bridge is Falling Down" and "The Farmer in the Dell," etc., and the children joined in playing games. There were many lovely costumes, and the judges, Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Miss Vivien Combe and Mr. Stewart Clark, had difficulty in selecting the winners.

The prize for the best costumes at the ball went to Shirley and Caroline Pauline as "Two Little Girls in Blue," a charming little pair in their long Kate Greenaway frocks and poke bonnets. Prizes for the best national costumes were won by John Nicolson, as a Dutch boy, and Betty van Alphen in an authentic Volendam costume, and Valerie Huse in an authentic Tyrolean costume. The prizes for the best comic costumes went to Alan Nicolson and Alan Barton, as Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, and Janet Strath, as a June-bug. The prizes for the best original costumes were awarded to Robbie and John McLeod, dressed as little flying officers; Ken Keeley, as a Marx policeman in a perfect replica of the special uniform; and Katharine Goodland, as an adorable bronze butterfly with gauzy wings. Velda Wille won a prize in this section as the "Sweetheart of the Regiment." Special prizes were awarded to Garry and Gail Webster, as a courtier and the daintiest little girl at the ball, respectively.

TINIEST GUEST

Baby Edith van Alphen, only thirteen months old, won a prize for the youngest child at the ball, and she was dressed in a diminutive old-fashioned frilled costume, carrying a fan and with a tiny bonnet on her head. Another special prize was given to Eleanor Strath, as a tiny Sonja Henie.

Peerless Fashion Patterns

Edited by LAURA I. BALDIT, A.M.
(For many years Assistant Professor of Household Arts, Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York, N.Y.)

A beautifully casual ash-blue rabbit's wool two-piece Spring town dress that is as flattering as it is smart. You'll enjoy wearing it later for sports.

The buttoned-down-the-front tailored jacket blouse nips the waistline and flares cunningly about the hips. You can suit your own taste about the neck. The lower V-collar is always a favorite with juniors. The sleeves are pleated to create young square shoulders.

You'll be so thrilled about the gored flared skirt, you'll want to use the pattern for some extra skirts.

One of them, to be certain, will be a plaid-cut bias to give that individual diagonal effect. It's easily accomplished with this model with centre-front and centre-back seams.

You can make extra wool, linen or cotton challs blouses. Again, this model is dashing in crepe print as a complete dress.

For a Summer costume, make it of new-looking beige linen with ricrac trim.

A detailed sewing chart is included.

Style No. 3070 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 3/4 yards of 39-inch material.

The Spring and Summer Fashion Book is filled with lovely designs for everyday wear, which are easy and inexpensive to make.

Wedding Is Solemnized At Oak Bay

The Easter decorations in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, made a lovely setting for the wedding of Una Lela Marie, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Williams, 2169 Beaver Street, and Mr. Thomas Hurly, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hurly, County Kerry, Ireland, which took place last evening at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Canon Nunn conducted the ceremony, and Mr. F. T. C. Wickett presided at the organ.

As the bride entered the church with her father, who gave her away, the choir sang the hymn "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," and later, as the bride and groom stood before the altar, the psalm "O God, Be Merciful unto Us." During the signing of the register, Mr. P. Edmonds, uncle of the bride, sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride was married in her traveling costume, and had chosen a smart navy blue suit of English gabardine, worn with a pale pink blouse, a small navy blue straw hat and short veil, matching accessories and a handsome silver fox fur, a gift from the groom. She carried an ivory prayer book, which had been carried by her mother at her wedding, from which hung white ribbons with fresh violets attached.

THE ATTENDANTS

Miss Thelma Williams attended her sister, in a charming frock of black triple-sheer, brightly appliqued with flowers in front and tied with a pink velvet sash at the back. A small black hat and veil and a corsage spray of pink carnations completed the smart ensemble.

Mr. Robert Williams, the bride's brother, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Lewis Williams, another brother, and her two cousins, Mr. Ronald Edmonds and Mr. Jack Williams, and Mr. John Pimm.

The guest pews were marked by posies of Spring flowers tied with white ribbon.

HOSTS AT RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were hosts at a reception after the service at home, which was attractively arranged with bowls of Japanese plum blossoms and assorted Spring flowers. A lovely lace cloth covered the supper table, which was centred with the wedding-cake, standing between tall pink tapers in silver holders and vases of sweet peas. Mrs. Williams wore a navy blue silk gown, adorned with a spray of violets and roses, and a navy and white straw hat.

After a honeymoon on the Mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Hurly will take residence at 787 Victoria Avenue.

Among the gifts was a silver flower basket and a breakfast set from the choir of St. Mary's Church, of which the bride is a member.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. A. H. Swan, Miss M. Swan and Master Raymond Swan and Mrs. Robinson, all from Denman Island.

"ARIES"

If March 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m. and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:15 to 8:15 a.m., from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m. and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

Absent-mindedness is going to cause a world of trouble this day, so do not indulge in it. Be sure that you remember where you put things, for confusion is going to be created through the misplacing of important memoranda, papers and personal possessions. It might be well to remember that "charity begins at home," for indiscreet liberality may bring belated regrets. This is a poor day to try to do any bluffing because skepticism will prevail, and very few people are likely to be gullible. In social circles there may be a spirit of formality, and any lack of conventionality perhaps will be frowned upon. Married and engaged couples, as well as those eager to assume matrimonial obligations, must avoid any manner that borders on being aggressive. If they do not wish to bring down on their heads a storm of resentment.

If a woman and March 30 is your birthday, you are probably a lover of poetry, art and music. Colors may have a decided effect upon your spirits. Bright tints, as well as tones suggestive of warmth, will prove helpful in keeping your nerves calm and your feelings exhilarated. You have the qualities that are essential for leadership, combined with the courage that makes heroes. You most likely have some useful ideas, which, if used in a practical manner, can help you make a large amount of money. You should have sufficient stamina to withstand any amount of cold water that pessimists might try to throw on some plan you may formulate. Never permit outside interference to wreck your love affairs. As an active political worker, teacher, trained nurse, writer, real estate or insurance broker, librarian, or in some highly specialized artistic activity, success is most likely to be achieved by you. True love probably will keep your matrimonial life free of domestic worries. The child born on March 30, is frequently, during adolescence, above the average youngster, both intellectually as well as physically. As a rule children born on this date make a great success of their lives. If a man and March 30 is your natal day, you may become very

Surprise Party

Killarney Cottage was the scene of a happy surprise party recently, the occasion being Mrs. Driscoll's birthday. The beautiful birthday cake was a work of art, made by Mrs. L. M. West, a granddaughter of the hostess. The rooms were decorated with Easter lilies, pink and white tulips, daffodils and plum blossom with tapers to harmonize, making a lovely setting for a huge Easter egg, drawn in by a lovely "bunny" (Miss Delores West). Much fun was had in exploring the hidden pockets of the egg for the presents the bunny had hidden there, and in trying to blow out the sixty-nine candles. Among the guests were three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren of the host and hostess, Sergeant-Major and Mrs. J. Driscoll.

Engagement Announced

Victoria friends of the bride-to-be will hear with interest that the marriage will take place in the early summer between Frances King, daughter of Mrs. Cowan, Vancouver, and the late Mr. George H. FROCKS FOR THE STYLISH STOUTS

Becoming Dresses Have Lines That Give Slenderizing Effect

PRINT USED FOR FROCK

There are dresses made in this style that combine a printed frock with a solid-colored redingote, like this one. The one shown has a high, square neck. Some are finished with collarless V-shaped necklines, a line that is very good for the stouter woman.

The printed frock sketched on the seat of figure also has slenderizing lines. The material may be navy, black or brown with white. Collar and scarf are one piece, with accent of cartridge pleated grain ribbon forming buckle of belt and side of jabot. The neckline of this dress is adjustable.

A hint for the stouter woman is to corset herself neatly, but not too snugly. The latter is uncomfortable and does not look well. It gives the same appearance that you've noticed in a fat foot that is shoved into a shoe that looks too small for it, and it bulges all over the place.

MOSTLY fashion articles are written as if all the world of women was slim and young. That is the way all women like to feel, but unfortunately, they don't all look that way.

There are chubby women and some that are plainly and definitely fat, no doubt about it. However, they needn't be dowdy, even if they feel that the exercises and reducing diets that are offered them galore wouldn't do them any good.

They can choose clothes that are becoming and that make them appear more slender. The two dresses shown here are good for that purpose.

The first one, on the left, is a redingote, which is a very popular model this Spring. This particular one is made of black or navy sheer wool, with a slip with suspender back of beige silk and rayon crepe. An ornamented belt gives a nice effect.

Festival Is Gratifying In Entries

Last year's Musical Festival entry list of 639 was considered very gratifying, but the number is exceeded by more than 100 this year with a registration of over 740. Many of these, as already noted, are from outside Victoria, and it has been very gratifying to the committee that so many are from places on the Mainland.

In the grand championship class, which is for competition for the City of Victoria Medallion, contestants who may file entries include all winners in Senior Grade "A" vocal classes in years 1927, 1928 and 1929; winners in the Rose Bowl from 1930 to 1937, inclusive; and open winners in piano, solo strings (including senior "cello") in the year 1927 to 1937, inclusive.

Contestants in this must be residents of Vancouver Island and will be required to select one number of their own selection. Entries will close on Saturday, April 17.

The festival board hopes that this new competition will bring out all the previous winners mentioned in the above classes, and that on Saturday evening, May 1, will, as a result, go down to lasting memory among the music lovers and festival patrons of the city as one of especially outstanding merit. The board asks for the co-operation of all winners in the above-mentioned groups to assist in the success of the contest. Full particulars may be had by telephoning E 8431.

"OUR HERITAGE"

Sir,—The Colonist of March 21, 1937 had some striking photos showing the difference between the logging operations done, on the one hand, selectively, and on the other hand, those done by the high-lead system. The pictures speak volumes! The three kiddies seen sitting on a huge tree stump, contemplating the devastation wrought by the high-lead system, seemingly ask themselves the question: Is this all that our parents are leaving us for a heritage?

Anyone having witnessed the destructive logging operations, as practised in this part of the world, cannot fail to deplore the inherent greed and selfishness of man, who in the spirit of that profligate French King Louis XV, who, while emptying the coffers of the State for his own self-gratification, replied to remarks made: "It will last as long as we will; and after us the deluge!"

Man as best is selfish and needs the law to keep him in check. The Norwegian logger is not naturally less selfish than the Canadian, but his Government, years ago, very wisely forestalled that human characteristic by introducing a very beneficial model of reforestation by which the lumber supply of that country, twenty-five times smaller than Canada with only a quarter of the latter's population has not been depleted in the least and has been a wonderful source of income for that nation, which has lasted now for many decades and will continue to do so as long as the system now in use is maintained, a system that instead of recklessly destroying the young growth during logging operations, replaces immediately all removed timber by saplings, thus perpetuating the growth!

The other day when reading an annual report on British Columbia forest fires we were shocked at the extent of the damage done to our forests by another cause, namely: fire; by which our children's heritage is also very seriously threatened! These fires, presumably ignited through the lack of humidity in the atmosphere, might cause someone to naively ask the question: If these conflagrations are started through lack of dampness in the air, and since hundreds of men are employed every year to combat those forest fires, how is it that before the white man made his appearance in this country and no one was here to light fires started through the dryness of the air, how is it that instead of finding as would be expected, nothing but burned-over areas, men found instead a wealth of timber? The answer again is to be found in man's I-don't-care-ism and self-indulgence which makes him smoke tobacco and throw carelessly away lighted matches and burning cigarette butts, etc.

L. J. ECKMAN,
40 Wellington Avenue, Victoria, B.C.,
March 27, 1937.

OVER-GOVERNMENT

Sir,—One is glad to see you taking up the agitation against the over-government of Canada and of the provinces in particular. Some of us have been at it for a quarter of a century. Voices "crying in the wilderness," if you will, for as a complacent and gullible people we seem to like it. Opinions appear to differ as to what really is Canada's main industry. What with nine Provincial Governments, a Federal Government and a Senate, let alone municipal governments, who is to say that with all the tentacles of this political octopus that government takes second place?

Why, sir, do we condone, nay encourage party politics in our Provincial affairs? Wherein do Liberal and Conservatives differ as to policy? Has not each succeeding regime under this stupid system left the country in a worse state than its predecessor?—and the unholy mess still goes on.

As taxpayers we need not look to the politicians to remedy matters. They are quite content, thank you. Mr. Pattullo will not agree to a reduction of seats, although a prominent member during a recent session of the House, voiced the opinion that half a dozen men were sufficient to cope with our domestic affairs, and many agree. Yet we are saddled with half a hundred which means a surplus of forty-four to get into mischief!

One harks back to the summing up of an eminent economist (one of the "pergrinating outsiders") who was "struck by the number of palatial public buildings across the country a century before they were needed, or our ability to pay for them." Was he very far out?

We are supposed, sir, to be well on the way out of what we called the "depression," and our unemployed are supposed to be much reduced in numbers, yet we are told that during the last three years direct relief costs have risen by $10,000,000. Does this mean that under cover of this "party" system politicians allow certain people to remain on relief for vote-catching purposes and regard it as a purely legitimate policy?

Apart from the criminal injustice inflicted on many deserving people who by self-denial and hard work are contributing towards keeping out these political favorites in comparison to the money back in a hurry.

SEAMEN SEEK HIGHER WAGE

Union Representative States Men Will File Claim for $10 Increase

TORONTO, March 29 (A.P.).—Edward Sullivan, Canadian representative of the Seamen's Union, today declared Canada was the only outstanding maritime country which so far had failed to accept the Geneva obligation of the eight-hour day. He attended a two-day convention here of seamen's organizations from Great Lakes ports and the Maritimes.

Angus MacInnis, C.C.F. member in the House of Commons for Vancouver East, has agreed to place the demand of Canadian seamen for legislation implementing the League of Nations contract before the House, said Mr. Sullivan.

He declared 1,200 unemployed seamen in Canadian ports would obtain employment when the Dominion Government gave effect to the obligations which its representatives incurred at Geneva last year.

Great Britain and the United States have given seamen the eight-hour day, while France enacted a six-hour day, said Mr. Sullivan.

Besides the eight-hour day demand, the seamen will file agreements with steamship companies asking for the 1929 scale of wages or $10 a month over existing rates, he added.

LEAKING CRAFT IS PROCEEDING

Freighter Volunteer Strives To Reach Kobe, Japan, Under Own Power

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29 (A.P.).—The crew of the storm-battered American freighter Volunteer kept the vessel pointed toward Kobe, 800 miles away, tonight, after checking the flow of water through sprung plates.

The two passengers remained aboard with the thirty-seven crewmen. Rescue vessels, drawn to the 7,700-ton freighter by distress calls, resumed their course when further assistance appeared unnecessary.

Mackay Radio reported a message from the Canadian liner Empress of Canada, saying the Volunteer was striving to make Kobe under her own power. The message said the British motorship Fresno City, which sped 240 miles under forced draft to the aid of the Volunteer, had resumed her course to Los Angeles.

Globe Wireless later intercepted another message from the Empress of Canada, saying the Volunteer had checked the flow of water into her hold and all crew and passengers were still aboard.

UNION PICKETS SEATTLE PLANT

Line Forms Outside Todd Dry Docks, Inc.—Organizer Claims Lockout

SEATTLE, March 29 (A.P.).—The Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers established demonstration picket lines at the Todd Seattle Dry Docks, Inc., today. The union is a Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate.

The picket line was set up after Arthur Fisherman, the Industrial Union's organizer here, announced dry docks employees who had joined the C.I.O. Union were locked out.

Today was the deadline announced last week for all employees of the dry docks firm to join craft unions of the Metal Trades Council, an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

Inbound from Glasgow and Liverpool, the Donaldson Line freighter Corrientes is expected from Seattle early this evening, according to A. E. Shanks, of Rithet Consolidated, Ltd. The vessel is due to leave Seattle about noon today. She carries approximately 100 tons of local cargo for discharge at Rithet Piers.

Power Tug Starts Rail Journey for Northern Service

MONTREAL, March 29.—An eighty-three-foot power tug constructed at the Sorel shipyards and designed for use in Northern Alberta passed through Montreal yesterday on seven flat cars of the Canadian National Railways on her long journey to the near-Arctic regions. Two of these tugs have been built for the Northern Transportation Co., Ltd., operating during the season of navigation from the end of steel at Waterways, Alberta, down the Mackenzie River system to Great Bear Lake. The second tug will be leaving Sorel shortly.

In addition to the unusual nature of the boats themselves, there is the fact that they will not be launched until they are approximately 3,000 miles or so away from shipyards.

Jim Braddock to Appear in Court Over Coming Mix

Heavyweight Champion Agrees to Make Appearance Next Monday to Explain Why He Is Going to Meet Louis Instead of Schmeling—Attorneys Say He Has Been Advanced $15,000

NEWARK, N.J., March 29 (AP).—Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock today agreed to explain in Federal Court here next Monday why he should fight Joe Louis in Chicago June 22 instead of first meeting Max Schmeling in New York June 3.

The champion had been dodging Madison Square Garden's process servers.

The order was served by United States Marshal William P. McDermitt.

Colonel John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, insisted today's action was just a re-run of last Saturday's when service was reported made.

The Garden asked that the champion "be restrained and enjoined by injunction from entering into any major fight or into any contest with Joe Louis on June 22 or any other time unless and until the defendant shall have fulfilled his contract to meet Schmeling."

Maroons Advance In Hockey Series

BOSTON, March 29 (AP).—Those championship-hungry Montreal Maroons with a motto of "They can't beat us now" nailed to their flag, stepped briskly into the Stanley Cup hockey semi-finals today, survivors of one of the toughest preliminary playdowns in years.

They marched into the semi-finals against New York Rangers by defeating Bruins, 4-1, last night in the third and deciding game of the series. They came from the shadow of the hockey ashan to win and won because they snapped up the "breaks."

It was the finish of a tough, bruising series between the teams so evenly matched the scores of 4-1, 4-0 and 4-1 were no indication of the closeness of play throughout the series. Maroons won the first game in Montreal, 4-1, and Bruins the second in Boston, 4-0.

WIN OVER CHELSEA PUTS ATHLETIC IN TIE WITH GUNNERS

London Clubs Share Top Position Once More in First Division Race—Manchester City Pressing Leaders and Have Good Chance to Gain Championship—Villans Climbing

LONDON, March 29 (AP).—Manchester City's drive for the championship of the English Football League is causing Arsenal and Charlton Athletic, the leaders, no little concern. Hard hit by injuries earlier in the season, the Lancashire squad has rounded into form and is now at the crest of a wave that has netted nine victories and six draws since Christmas.

The heavy Easter programme was concluded for most of the clubs today, leaving the two London clubs in possession of top place, deadlocked with forty-seven points each. Manchester City, Middlesbrough and Portsmouth are bracketed in third position, three points in arrears, but the Mancunions have a distinct edge as they have played only thirty-five games, two less than all the other contenders.

Attacking power may well carry them to the first championship in the history of the club when the season closes May 1. Since the start of the upward spurt the City has bagged forty-one goals, against sixteen, and had the best record of the leaders in the holiday series, garnering five of the six points at stake.

All the championship contenders have hard games ahead and the meeting of Arsenal and Manchester City on the latter's ground at Maine Road, April 10, promises to be the battle of the year. Present indications are thousands will be unable to gain admission.

THREE DRAWN GAMES
Arsenal's, vaunted strength appears to be waning in the light of three drawn games since the series opened Good Friday. Charlton did better. After a 3-0 reverse at the hands of Chelsea, the Athletic made several changes in the line-up and returned victorious Saturday and today. The Gunners' two games with Stoke City ended without a goal being scored, but Charlton turned on Chelsea today to win 1-0.

Manchester City downed Liverpool today, 5-2, but Middlesbrough battled to a scoreless draw with Birmingham. Portsmouth evened the count with Grimsby Town by winning 2-1. At Grimsby Good Friday the fishermen won by the only goal of the game.

Aston Villa's hopes of regaining the First Division after a season in the second league soared today. Blackpool, Leicester City and Bury all went under today and if the Villans can capture maximum points against Newcastle United tomorrow they will be bracketed with the City and Bury in second place with forty-six points.

While Aston was idle, Blackpool lost, 2-0, at Blackburn; Leicester City went under before a home crowd, 2-1, to Sheffield United, while Tottenham Hotspurs beat Bury, 2-0, at White Hart Lane.

First Division
Birmingham 0, Middlesbrough 0. Charlton Athletic 1, Chelsea 0. Derby County 3, Huddersfield Town 3.

Bay and Cowichan Will Meet Mainland Oval Ball Fifteens
PROUD holders of the Barclay Cup, symbolic of the city oval ball championship, J.B.A.A. ruggers will leave Friday night for Vancouver, where they are billed to oppose the North Shore All Blacks in the Rounsefell Cup fixture, Saturday afternoon.

Cowichan Rugby Club, senior "B" titleholders, will also cross to the Mainland to meet Meralomas, in the Province Cup series. With the Bays and Cowichan, Cowichan Trophy entrants scheduled to perform at Vancouver, and the withdrawal from the series of the Oak Bay Wanderers, members of the Victoria Rugby Union at their meeting yesterday evening in The Colonist board room decided to leave the draw for the first round of the Island championship series with the president and the secretary.

Buxton to Meet Speedy Dado in Seattle Tonight

SEATTLE, March 29 (AP).—Experienced Speedy Dado, Manila, and hard-soled Billy Buxton, Victoria, will mix it up over the eight-round distance in a featherweight main event here tomorrow night. Both boxers were expected to scale around 126 pounds.

It will mark another attempt at the comeback trail for Dado, who had an enviable ring record up to the time he retired a few years ago. He dropped his first two comeback bouts.

Buxton has knocked out most of his opponents the last few months, the most recent victim being Able Israel.

ICE STAR INJURED
MONTREAL, March 29 (AP).—Dick Perry, defenceman for Copper Cliff Redmen, was taken to hospital unconscious after receiving a check in tonight's Memorial Cup game against Montreal Victorias.

Perry, checked to the ice near the end of the game, suffered a brain concussion, according to an early diagnosis. He was still unconscious more than an hour after the game.

The Copper Cliff defenceman was bumped by Sibby Munday, of the Vics.

Copper Cliff won the game 10-4 and advanced into the Eastern finals in the cup play-downs.

Posse Kills Lion On the Rampage

LILLE, France, March 29 (AP)—A posse's rifle fire ended today the easier rampage of a circus lion on the loose.

The animal, which spread terror in a quiet country section Sunday, was advancing on a group of children when it was shot by a posse of more than a hundred peasants.

BEAUTIES ARE COMING HERE

Trip to Victoria Prize for Winners of Inter-State Contest

Victoria is second only to Paris in the opinion, at least, of officials in charge of the beauty contest to be held in connection with the San Francisco Golden Gate International Exposition, who are to choose a Queen of Queens.

"Miss Western America" will be selected from amongst the beauties of the ten Western States. The winner is to go Paris with her chaperone, there to represent the San Francisco Exposition at the International Exhibition of Arts and Technics in June of this year. The three runners-up will be brought upon a personally conducted ten-day cruise to Victoria as guests of the French line.

The winners will be selected by committees in each state from photographs and biographies prepared by the contestants. According to information received by the Portland Chamber of Commerce, girls selected for the finals will be flown to San Francisco to compete in the finals, April 29.

Entrants, rules insist, must be between eighteen and twenty-five, citizens of the state they represent, and have at least a high school education. State entries close on April 5.

"SEA DEVILS" AT DOMINION TODAY

Gripping Drama of Coast Guardsmen Features Victor McLaglen And Ida Lupino

The latest contender for thrill honors is being offered by R.K.O. Radio is "Sea Devils," a gripping drama of the coast guard which comes to the Dominion Theatre today.

Crammed with action that includes two daring rescues at sea and the demolition of a huge iceberg in the North Atlantic steamer lanes, the picture was made with the full co-operation of the United States Coast Guard authorities, and many of its scenes were filmed aboard one of the finest cutters in the service, the 250-foot turbo-electric Tahoe.

Against this colorful background, the story deals with the hostilities between two coast guardsmen, Victor McLaglen and Preston Foster, over Foster's attentions to McLaglen's daughter, Ida Lupino.

PLANS ARRANGED FOR CELEBRATION

Coronation to Be Marked in Lady Smith Largely as Arboreal Festival

LADYSMITH, March 29.—Local plans for the celebration of Coronation Day on May 12 were consolidated under the general chairmanship of Mayor W. W. Walkem at a meeting recently.

If the proposals submitted and approved by the meeting materialize, the day of Empire jubilation will find a unique expression in Lady Smith, largely as an arboreal festival, for the plan includes the planting of a Canadian maple in Market Square, flanked on either side by English hawthorn and the Scottish rowan.

It is possible this suggestion will provoke those of Irish sympathies to come forward with a sample of the famous blackthorn, and the representatives of ancient Cambria to follow suit with a Welsh oak or willow, and, in any event, the tree-planting ambitions of the day will be gladly accommodated by the committee.

OFFER OF TREES

The offer of Mr. Osaka, representing a firm of Japanese log exporters here, to donate a large group of the well-known Japanese flowering cherry was accepted, and, although it is improbable the young trees will arrive in time for Coronation Day, they will be planted and dedicated before the official Coronation ceremonies are past.

Organized and directed by the Native Sons and Daughters of British Columbia local posts, five hundred children will participate in a May queen election, with the crowning ceremony to take place at a fancy dress parade on the afternoon of Coronation Day, while the Army and Navy Veterans will assume charge of the dance in the evening.

A bronze coronation medallion will be given to every child at the schools on the day before the ceremonies, and the three local churches will address appropriate messages to the children that day. Rev. C. McDiarmid will speak to the Central and Primary Schools, Rev. B. Epton

How It Started
By JEAN NEWTON

PALINDROME

It may be true, as they say, that the moment before a man dies, his life-span is pictured before him in a flash.

Then it was perhaps that Napoleon said:
"Able was I ere I saw Elba."
Now, we don't know whether Napoleon did or did not so date when he began slipping, in language which runs the same in reverse as forward.

Nothing surprises us less than to find incidents and episodes reduced to anecdotes just to make a good story—that is how much history is born.

So it may be with these alleged last words of him, like Saul of Tarsus, blinded with the blazing sun of Destiny was finally crippled by his strength and became just a bogey-man perpetuated by a palindromic—an expression the English language borrowed from the French

Spurling to the High School, and Rev. Father A. J. McLeish to the Catholic School.

The city will go into a fever of red, white and blue bunting, flags and lighting effects for the occasion to make the day as colorful and memorable as possible.
